Ray Says He Was Decoy In King Assassination

By The Associated Press

The Nashville Tennessean says James Earl Ray, accused of the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., will claim he was "promised '$12,000 to $15,000' to lead police away from the real killers and become the lure in the greatest manhunt in histo-

Huie quoted Ray as saying the proposition boiled down to this: Ray was to meet Raoul in Windsor and make several trips traveled to Slovakia today for more 50th anniversary celebrations while the nation wondered what price the Soviet Union would exact for the 12-hour outburst of anti-Soviet demonstrations in Prague Monday.

Possible Soviet retaliation ranged from new attacks in the Soviet press to a new showdown between the Kremlin and Czechoslovakia's reform regime headed by Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek.

Dubcek, President Ludvik Svoboda, Premier Oldrich Cernik and many members of the cabinet and party presidium took an eight-car special train to Bratislava, the Slovak capital. There they were to continue the golden jubilee celebration of Czechoslovakia's independence and to attend the signing by Svoboda Wednesday of the law creating semiautonomous Czech and Slovak states joined in a

The Prague part of the celebration produced an outpouring of patriotic fervor Monday that included demonstrations and parades by up to 10,000 persons chanting "Russians go home" and other slogans attacking the presence of the Soviet troops invaded the country in August.

"Freedom!" the cried. "They have the tanks, we have the truth! Russians go home!"

Youths carrying red, white and blue Czechoslovak flags roamed from the seat of government at Prague Castle to the Soviet Embassy, a Soviet district command post, a Red Army officers' billet and the National Theatre, where they delayed a gala performance of a patriotic opera attended by Dubcek and other leaders.

Non-Partisan Ballot

The non-partisan ballot for judicial offices in the Nov. 5 election lists three contests. All are important.

The top one affects the Michigan Supreme Associate Justice Michael D. O'Hara of Menominee is seeking re-election to an 8 year term with an annual salary of $35,000.

He is being opposed by Judge Thomas Giles Kavanagh, Democratic nominee, who is currently a judge of the Michigan Court of Appeals.

Since there already is a Thomas Kavanagh on the Supreme Court the impression is inescapable that the Democrats and the two Kavanaghs connived to work a confused identity gimmick to get Thomas Giles elected and political writers of the state have so labeled the situation.

Thomas Giles Kavanagh has qualifications which shouldn't be clouded by the "same name"

He is urging that the Supreme Court, as constitutionally provided, be actively in the business of controlling the other courts of Michigan's judicial system and that the juvenile (probate) courts should be upgraded and that perhaps a family court should be created in Michigan.

This newspaper favors the re-election of Justice O'Hara, who has established a traditionalist record on the court and given us reason for a refreshing pause in American jurisprudence's headlong haste to protect the accused person, no matter what havoc it creates among our policing and court functions and in protection of a public menaced by increasing crime.

O'Hara has said "I regard the role of the judiciary as that of an arbiter between the executive and judicial branches." If we're to have separation of powers in government - and there's been a serious deterioration of it in Washington as revealed by the Fortas case — we must have a judiciary which interprets the intent of the legislative body in creating the law, as related to the body of the law, and not what the court thinks the legislature should have enacted.

The rather new Michigan Court of Appeals is being increased in membership from 9 judges selected three each from the 9 appellate court districts of the state to 12 selected from the three districts. The Upper Peninsula is part of the Third District, which includes 66 counties, most of them in the northern part of the Lower Peninsula.

The nominees selected in the Third District, in a primary election are both qualified and both Republicans. They are Thomas M. Burns, an attorney in Saginaw and former legislator and member of the Michigan State Public Services Commission, and Stuart Hoffius of Grand Rapids, a Kent County circuit judge for more than 8 years. Hoffius has had judicial experience, which recommends him for the appellate court, but Burns has a good record in the quasi-judicial office of a public service commissioner and chairman of the commission.

Third place on the ballot is for the nominees for judge of the new district Court, which the Michigan Legislature has created in haste and in a rather uncertain and unsatisfactory manner to satisfy the 1963 Michigan Constitution and complete the state's revised court structure. The new district court replaces the justice of the peace courts and the municipal courts of the state.

Attorneys Dean J. Shipman and Ernest L. Olivares are the nominees for the 94th District Court, which includes all of Delta County. The court is an important one with jurisdiction broader than that of the courts which it replaces.

The Press regards Shipman as the more qualified of the two nominees and recommends his election. Olivares is a relative newcomer who has identified himself with the Delta United Services campaign and other public works, but on the record as we read it, Shipman would bring the most judicious temperament and experience to the bench.

Though this man who once shouted "segregation forever" now disavows any racist intent, he knows his appeal has flared beyond the borders of Alabama because millions of white ethnic city folk, suburbanites and even farmers and ranchers far removed from trouble, are alarmed over riots and crime and the heady demands of black militants.

But this is far from the limit of his drawing power. Like any celebrated "grievance candidate," he is winning the support of complainants of every sort - against campus unrest, hippies, the federal bureaucracy, the pollution of the lakes, you name it.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband has gotten another woman pregnant. I have forgiven him and told him I will stand by him and I hope we can have this tragedy.

Foreign Irade Surplus Soars

WASHINGTON (AP) - The foreign trade surplus soared to $282.2 million in September, the best showing since November 1967, the Commerce Department reported today.

The September surplus of exports over imports brought the cumulative surplus for the first nine months of 1968 to $834.3 million. In the same three quarters of 1967 exports were outrunning imports by $3.5 billion more than four times as much.

"If we continue at the September level of performance through the fourth quarter," said William H. Chartener, assistant secretary for economic affairs, "we ought to end up with a surplus on the order of a billion and a half dollars, which than the figures we've been using the last few months.'

September imports totaled $2.96 billion on a seasonally adjusted basis and exports $3.25 billion, both records. It was the first "time that exports have topped $3 billion.

Economic Development

THE MAN WHO DIDN'T FORGET

Phil Ruppe kept his word when he went to Washington, when he . . .

• Worked on 300 projects to stimulate economic growth in the 11th District.

- When he introduced a bill to extend FHA financing to vacation homes, helping building, promoting construction jobs, widening community tax bases.
- · Helped develop lower tolls for Mackinac Bridge.
- Helped develop salmon trout planting.
- Fought for . . . and keeps fighting for . . . greater cooperation between business and government to halt the drain on rural areas by migration to already crowded cities.
